Election of Senators Important Political Event.

State Legislatures Must Choose Men for Congress.

SOME ALREADY NAMED

Raynor and Page Succeed Selves, Williams in Money's Place.

Bitter Contests Being Carried on in Commonwealths.

Washington, Jan. 14.—The most important political event of the new year is the election of United States senators by the various state legislatures to complete the upper house of the Sixty-second congress. The new senate will be composed of 51 Republicans and 43 Democrats, as against 45 Republicans and 33 Democrats in the last congress—a net gain of eight seats for the Democrats. (In the house, according to the returns of the election of November 8, the Democrats will have a majority of 65.)

Of 20 senators whose terms expire on March 3 next, 24 are Republican and six Democrat. The various state legislatures elected on November 8 last, will choose their successors. There will also be senators chosen to fill vacancies caused by the deaths of Senator Doolittle of Iowa (Republican), Senator Thompson of North Dakota (Democrat) and Senator Clark of Georgia (Democrat), making a total of 23 to be elected. Of the 23, seventeen will be Republicans and sixteen Democrats, representing a gain of nine seats for the Democrats and one for the Republicans.

The states where the senatorial toga will fall from Republican to Democratic shoulders are Indiana, Nebraska, Montana, New York, Ohio, New Jersey, Maine, West Virginia and Missouri. The one Republican gain occurred in North Dakota, where a Republican successor will be chosen to complete the unexpired term of the late Senator Thompson (Democrat). The legislature will also elect a Republican to succeed Porter J. McCumber, whose term expires in March.

Three Senators Chosen.

Three of the senators included in the above count have already been chosen. They are Isidor Raynor of Maryland, elected to succeed himself; John Sharp Williams, elected to succeed Senator Money, and Carol S. Page of Vermont, who succeeded himself. The term of the late Senator Daniel of Virginia expires this March, and as the regular session of the Virginia legislature does not convene until 1912 either a special session will be called to elect his successor or Claude A. Swanson, who is serving by appointment, will retain his seat until next year.

No successor will be chosen to the late Senator McEnery of Louisiana until 1912. His seat is at present being filled by J. R. Thornton, who was appointed by the governor.

While the people of a few of the states have indicated their senatorial preference through a direct primary, there are bitter contests being carried on in the majority of the states where the senatorial vacancies occur. New York is a fair sample. It has been many years since the Democratic party of the Empire state has had a member in the upper house and there are a countless number of aspirants to the seat, which will be vacated by Chauncey M. Depew. They include Edward M. Shepard, William F. Sheehan, Martin W. Littleton and a host of others. Even the new governor, John A. Dix, has been mentioned, and the fact that he has refused to endorse any of the candidates is considered significant.

Wilson Has Taken Hand.

On the Jersey shore, however, the situation is slightly different. Here Governor Wilson has taken a hand in the fray, and is urging the election of James E. Martin to succeed Senator Kean. James Smith of Newark, however, is making a strong fight. He represented his state in the senate many

SHE HAD A STONE IN HER KIDNEY

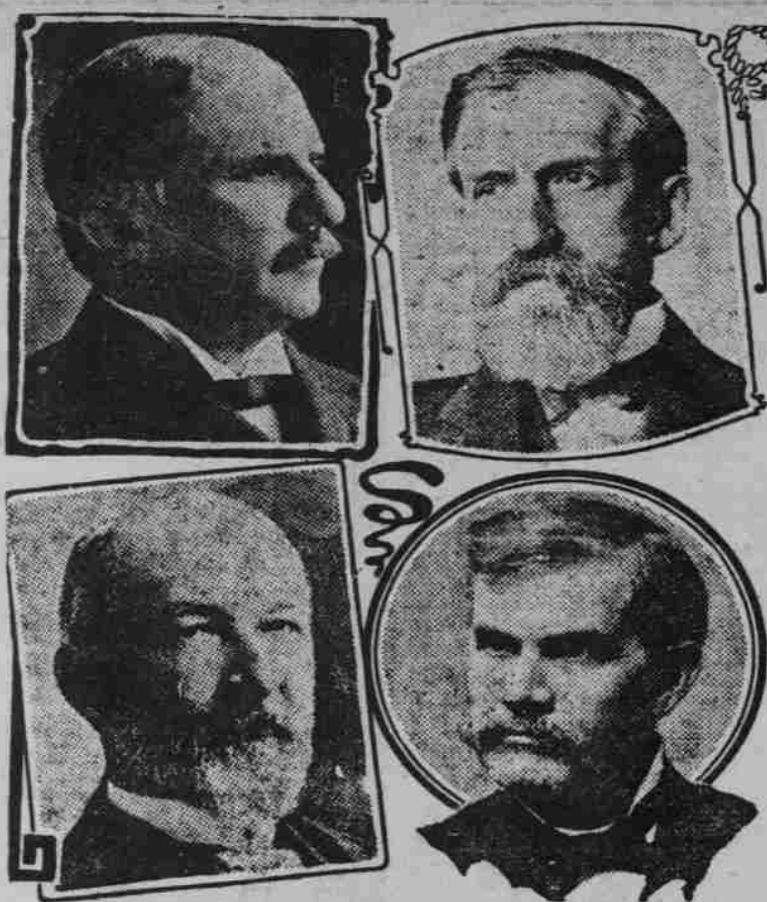

Everyone knows how a deposit of lime and other mineral forms on the inside of a teakettle forming a sort of stony crust, but did you ever know that this self-same process sometimes takes place in the human kidneys, forming what is called a "kidney stone?" This condition not only causes great pain, but will also quickly ruin the patient's kidneys and wreck his health unless he is treated by a wide-awake doctor who is able to correctly diagnose the ailment and remove the stone. Miss Ivy Pitts, of R. R. D. No. 2, Joplin, Mo., recently had a case of this kind, and her health would likely have been ruined for life had not one of her neighbors told her of the great work being done by the United Doctors, those expert medical specialists who have their Topeka Institute at 610 Kansas Ave. Miss Pitts makes the following statement in regard to her case:

"Dear Doctors: I have suffered for the past three years and been under the care of a doctor most of that time. I have been treated for rheumatism and a displaced bone in the back without any relief. I was not able to do my work and could scarcely walk across the house. Our neighbor, Mr. Stroup, who was taking treatment from the United Doctors, advised me to call and see you. I did so on March 23d, and after an examination I was informed that I was suffering from a stone in the left kidney. I immediately commenced treatment, and after I had taken the medicine for four weeks I can truthfully say that I am perfectly well and do not feel a particle of the trouble from which I suffered so long. I can place a reasonable fee, but I cannot place a money value on what you have done for me. (MISS) IVY PITTS."

"I wish to state that I accompanied my sister to the doctor's office each week and know that the above statement is entirely correct."

"MRS. MERL FANHAM."

"1425 Perkins Ave., Joplin, Mo."

years ago, and has the support of many of the Democratic state leaders.

In Massachusetts there is a strong fight to depose Henry F. Cabot Lodge, and he will have considerable difficulty in being re-elected.

Maine will elect a Democrat to succeed the veteran Eugene Hale. The most likely candidate is Charles F. Johnson of Waterville.

The successor to Senator Aldrich of Rhode Island, who has announced that he will retire with the expiration of his term, will probably be Henry F. Aldrich, who is a few leaders, however, who believe that Aldrich will change his mind and announce his candidacy at the eleventh hour.

In Connecticut George P. McLean, former governor, has entered the race against Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley, who desires to succeed himself.

West Virginia probably will choose between Clarence Watson, a wealthy coal man, or Henry Gassaway Davis, who has had service in the senate, as a Democrat to succeed Nathan B. Scott, Republican.

A Contest in Georgia.

The death of Alexander S. Clay will precipitate a senatorial contest in Georgia. By the primaries, held some months ago, Florida selected ex-Congressman Broward to succeed James T. Tillar, who is dead and no choice for the vacancy has been made. Tennessee may send to Washington one of three men—James B. Frazier, Albert B. Chandler, or the state in who now ably represents the state in the senate, Charles T. Cates or Jacob M. Dickinson, the latter secretary of war. Mississippi has elected John Sharp Williams. He will succeed the late Senator McEnery.

Iowa has filled the vacancy occasioned by the death of Jonathan P. Doolittle in the person of Lafayette Young, editor of the Des Moines Capital. There is reason to believe that the reelection of Mr. Young, who is a standpatter, and Senator Cummins have improved, and it would surprise no one here should Cummins be re-elected. In the case Mr. Young should not be elected, it is expected the honor will go to Harvey Ingham, editor-in-chief of the Des Moines Register and Leader.

TWO BOYS DEAD.

As Result of a Fight on the Railroad Track.

Holman, Mo., Jan. 14.—Charles Williams, 16 years old, was arrested here today in connection with the death of some Stollie and Roy Pledge, who were run down and killed by a freight train near here last Wednesday. Williams confessed he hit Stollie on the temple with a stone. He was placed in jail at the Stollie home. Williams was fought with Stollie and Pledge and Stollie after being struck with the stone fell on the railroad track unconscious, where Pledge was trying to aid him when the train ran them down. Stollie and Pledge, aged 14 and 17 years respectively, were from Falls City, Neb.

HOUSE BURNS TO GROUND.

Home of Principal Vanvorstol Destroyed—No Insurance.

The home belonging to Principal Wm. Vanvorstol of the Oakland schools was burned to the ground early last evening. The house was a two-story frame dwelling and the fire came so suddenly and burned so fiercely that only part of the furniture was saved. The loss was about $5,500. The owner had allowed the insurance to run out a few days before.

The home was located at 341 Forest avenue, in Oakland, fifteen blocks away from the nearest fire station. It isn't the duty of the Topeka fire department to respond to fires in Oakland and it is only after Chief Wilmarth has been consulted that a fire company has been called to this village just east of the city.

Last night the fire came at a critical time. A big part of the men of the department were away from the stations for their supper. Also, on account of the slippery weather the horses have been having their shoes sharpened and the department was crippled on the heavy roads, no pavement, and the fact that there was no water in the vicinity made it impossible for the firemen to do anything with the flames at the Vanvorstol home. However, other houses in the vicinity were saved. Several caught fire on account of flying embers.

"THE KID" HARD TO MANAGE.

So William Hewitt, Who Was Locked Out, Is Given a Divorce.

"Well, I tell you, Judge, the old woman had this kid of hers when I married her. The kid is about 19 or 20 years old now and runs around with questionable characters and I won't stand for it. That's what we always quarrel about," said William Hewitt, a painter, to Judge A. W. Dana on the witness chair in his divorce case today.

The old woman ran me out of the house and threw my clothes out after me three months ago and I haven't been back since," he continued. "It wouldn't be so bad if these fellows had some reputation but they are gamblers and hang around the pool halls and the kid stays out late at night with them. One of them was just leaving the house when I came in that night and I says to the old woman, 'I want you to keep the kid away from here. I won't stand for it.' Then I went into the kitchen and the kid was in there. She called me a lot of names and struck at me with a stick of stove wood but I caught it on my arm. Just then the old woman came in and shoved me out and threw my clothes out and locked the door. Since that I've been working in Iowa."

"Take your decree," said the judge.

Mrs. Cella Orissa Smith was granted a decree of divorce from James F. Smith upon a showing of nonsupport. She also charged that he was jealous and accused her falsely of misconduct. He went to Colorado to take a homestead a year ago and has not contributed to her support since. Several times he wrote for her to come out west but would send no money for the ticket.

Judge Dana took a third case under advisement in order to investigate some of the circumstances. The case was that of Theresa Delamater against Oscar Delamater. She alleged nonsupport, abuse and abandonment. "He gave me the blackest eye anyone ever wore," she explained.

She could not explain satisfactorily, however, why her two children under 16 years of age have lived with her husband since the separation last June when he went to Kansas City. She asks custody of them but is a cook at the insane asylum and not prepared to care for them.

OTIS PLACES ORDER.

Asks for Roll Print Paper to Amount of $2,975,000.

Oregon City, Ore., Jan. 14.—General Harrison Gray Otis, editor and publisher of the Los Angeles Times, whose building and plant were wrecked by dynamite last fall, has placed an order here for roll print paper amounting to $2,975,000. The immense order will be turned out by the local paper mill, which uses the water power of the Willamette river at the falls. The paper is made from wood pulp, the huge logs being towed up the river. It is estimated by a local statistician that if all the paper ordered by General Otis in this single contract were spliced together and unrolled it would reach around the earth, thus giving the globe a paper belt four feet wide.

General Otis said when his newspaper plant was wrecked that he did not need any financial assistance.

LEGISLATION FIRST.

Colorado Democrats Are Planning to Block Senatorial Election.

Denver, Jan. 14.—The Post today says: Democratic legislators with progressive ideas are organizing a flying wedge for the purpose of blocking the election of a United States senator to succeed the late Charles J. Hughes, until certain platform pledges of the party have been enacted. A portion of the party has been enacted by the recall, headless ballot, bank guaranty of deposits, public service regulation, anti-trust and rate making bills.

"Sixteen members of the Democratic majority holding out can turn the trick and it is claimed more than half the number required have been mustered. Effort is being made to secure the other before balloting for United States senator begins. Supporters of Mayor Speer of Denver, and former Governor Alva Adams, the two leading candidates are naturally frowning upon the movement."

"Another purpose of the combination is to force senatorial candidates to declare their position on all big national questions."

D'AULBY CONVICTED.

Sentenced to One Month in Prison for Fraud.

Tours, Jan. 14.—"Count" D'Aulby de Gattigny was convicted today and sentenced to one month's imprisonment. As he already had spent more than a month in jail while awaiting trial, D'Aulby was given his freedom. The spectators applauded the findings of the court. The judge announced that he had found D'Aulby guilty of fraud in connection with the sale of a Corot.

The "Countess" D'Aulby was acquitted. D'Aulby was accused by the Duchess of De Choiseul-Praslin with fraud in connection with the sale to her and her late husband, Charles Hamilton Paine of Boston of a collection of pictures. The duchess withdrew her complaint after the case had been in the courts for several days but the public prosecutor refused to stop the proceedings.

The defendant claimed that if the pictures were not what he represented them to be it was because he had been deceived.

REVOLT IN TAMMANY.

Many of the Braves Refuse to Stand for Sheehan.

New York, Jan. 14.—Storm signals indicating a revolt in Tammany hall against the selection of William F. Sheehan for United States senator were posted here today when J. Sergeant Cram, long a member and high in the councils of the society announced that if Mr. Sheehan was elected he would quit politics.

"I think," said Mr. Cram, "that the interests have one senator already and should not have two. Why should not the other nine million people of this state be represented?"

"Between Sheehan and Shepard I certainly prefer Shepard. Mr. Sheehan's election at least would not drive the people into such bitter resentment that they would turn against the Democratic party as I believe they will if Mr. Sheehan is elected."

"The people are up in arms and will resent the election of another representative of the interests."

Senator John Godfrey Sax and Assemblyman Harold J. Friedman, both members of the Tammany organization declared that they would not vote for Mr. Sheehan for senator and would work and vote for Mr. Shepard.
